Course Information	Class No.	18064	Course Code	SOC4015	Credits	3
	Course Name	Studies of Korean Society
	Lecture Schedule	Mon-Thu /13:00~16:00
	Course Description	This is an introductory course to Korean culture and society with a focus on the formation and transformation of Korean culture and society. The course will explore diverse themes relevant to understanding Korea today, such as compressed modernity, educational migration, social class and inequality, popular culture, digitalization, diasporic cultures and cosmopolitanism. In doing so, the course examines key issues and debates and highlights emerging questions. In the classroom, there will be more discussion-oriented activities than direct lecturing. Students will be expected to demonstrate that they have done the reading and learned concepts and issues by taking an active role in the class discussions. There are no clear cut answers to any of these concerns. The students need to come up with their own ideas and further questions. This is a tentative syllabus and the class plan may change.
	Course Objective	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Students should be able to identify and understand major issues and characteristics in Korean culture and society that led to critical reflection on contemporary sociocultural issues surrounding Korea. 2. They should be able to develop cross-cultural insights and understand the differences in cultural patterns between Korea and other countries. 3. They should be able to read and interpret primary sources and apply them to understand the issues of the past and the present and to learn how to produce a report based on primary materials.
	Prerequisite	None
Materials/Textbooks	Course reading materials will be offered by the instructor.
